

50th International Occupational Risk Management Conference and Exhibition

This year we celebrated half a century of Noshcon dating back to 1962, and our 4th visit to the Champagne Sports Resort in the Drakensberg, a world heritage site, from 23 - 26 August 2011. This year promised to be our largest and most successful with a combination of both local and international speakers. The programme began with a presentation by Lewis Gordon Pugh with a comparison between his adventures around the world and occupational health, safety and the environment. The programme also included a first-ever debate with an expert panel, and the theatre planned for day two has given a different perspective on behavioural based safety. The networking opportunities allowed people to develop relationships and to share ideas amongst each other for the benefit of both the companies and the industry.
